

CREATIVE WRITING WORKSHOPS AT FLATFORD

Join us for a series of creative writing workshops set in the beautiful site of Flatford in Suffolk.

Each workshop is designed to inspire your own creative response to the nature and heritage of Flatford. Make the most of this beautiful landscape so beloved of Constable and create a personal picture of your National Trust visit in your own words.

All are welcome to join us, whether you are a complete beginner or a more experienced writer. These friendly and supportive workshops welcome groups and individuals and will focus on helping you put your personal experience and expression into words that you can keep and share with others. Each workshop will include a special tour and talk by a member of the National Trust team.

BOOKING ESSENTIAL

Please see overleaf for details and dates

10.30am–2.30pm

£40 per person

Café facilities are available.

Site entry is free but parking in the National Trust car park is chargeable if you're not a National Trust member.

Visit eventbrite for more information and to book.

Saturday 21 September 2024

Writing the landscape: a writing workshop inspired by Constable country

This workshop will engage with and draw you closer to the natural landscape and wildlife at Flatford. This will include a talk and tour in Valley Farm Kitchen Garden.

Saturday 19 October 2024

I saw a kingfisher: a nature-writing workshop inspired by Flatford and the River Stour

This workshop considers the history and natural beauty of the River Stour that runs through Flatford as inspiration for poetry, memoir and short stories.

Saturday 16 November 2024

A sense of history: a writing workshop inspired by Flatford through the years

This workshop focuses on the history of Flatford, whilst reflecting on its role in our lives today. This workshop will give you insights and tips on historical fiction and the ways in which we are all part of the history of this beautiful National Trust site. This will include a talk and tour in Bridge Cottage.