Our musical journey, encompassing both wintertime and Christmastide, has two works by contemporary composers as its focus: Sarah Quartel's cantata, A winter day, conjures up haunting and vivid images of a cold and crisp winter, and of swirling, dancing snowflakes. In contrast, Cecilia McDowall's carol cycle, A winter's night, combines several joyous songs to create a performance full of Christmas spirit. This festive celebration will also include some favourite Christmas works, as well as the ever-popular audience carols for you to sing.

We're delighted to welcome Christopher Webb, bass-baritone, and Cara Berridge, violoncello, along with our accompanist Alex Knight.

Do join us for candlelight, mulled wine and mince pies to get the Christmas season off to a great start.

Petros Singers is West London's leading amateur chamber choir. We perform a wide variety of music – from baroque to contemporary, from large-scale works to exquisite miniatures – placing particular emphasis on vibrant and communicative singing.

Richard Bannan was a choral scholar at Clare College, Cambridge before embarking on a career as a professional vocal musician, arranger and teacher. He now sings as a Lay-Clerk at St George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, and with many of the country's major professional ensembles.
