Description/Terms and Conditions

Air conditioning provides cool air and comfort in the summer months - plus all-round condensation control in the depths of winter.

A bad / damp smell in the car is a typical tell-tale sign that the air conditioning system needs a specific treatment. But not so obvious are the nasty bacteria and mould that lurk deep inside your cars ventilation ducts.

Germs from sneezes, colds, pets and general car condensation all help manifest bacteria which can cause allergic reactions and asthma-like symptoms for vehicle occupants.

The build-up of this bacteria is more likely to develop when the air conditioning system has not been in use for some time, as we enter the warmer months can you be sure that you won't shortly be blowing invisible bacteria into your vehicle potentially causing illness such as conjunctivitis?

To help you avoid this situation we have the ideal solution, a Full Air Conditioning Service including a dual action Steriliser and Deodoriser treatment*.

Air Conditioning Steriliser Service

- Checks system pressures and vent temperature
- Treats the problem of stale smelling A/C at source
- Visual inspection • Recovers old refrigerant
- Evacuate air and moisture from the system
- Leak test Carried Out
- Recharge to recommended levels adding fresh oil as necessary

Price Includes Anti-Bacterial Air Conditioning Treatment.
